BARKING AND 'OTHER WOMAN' WERE IN MAINE WOODS ROMANCE

MISS BEAM MOVED TO AS CHILD

Affection Fostered on Vacations at Sebago Undimmed by His 2 Marriages

White Plains, N. Y., May 2.—A Summer love idyll of childhood in the Maine woods between Clarence O. Baring, under indictment here for an alleged attempt to murder his wife by disease germs, and Miss Mildred E. Beam, physical culture teacher and the still missing "other woman" of the weirdly sensational case, was uncovered by investigators here today.

While Baring's lawyer was being grilled before a resumed session of the grand jury and Mrs. Baring was in conference with District Attorney Howard, an old acquaintance of the Baring family told of the romance of Baring and Miss Beam that persisted, despite his two marriages.

The investigators were told that Mildred Beam was a childhood sweetheart in the day, when Baring, a prep school student, studious and retiring, spent long summers at his parents' summer camp near Sebago Lake, Maine, the day when Mildred, a girl in her teens, also loved the woods that surrounded her own family's camp near the same lake shore.

KNOWN TO WIFE

It is a knowledge of this early romance, the informant volunteered, that had so fired the distrust and jealousy of Mrs. Baring, already past the turn of youth, when the visionary Baring married when he was twenty-eight.

Handicapped between these experiences and so much is asserted as fact—Baring courted when in his early twenties, a Miss Estelle Spiegel. They were divorced in 1912 shortly after Baring's marriage to his present wife.

The name used by him in this marriage contract was "Clarence O. Baring." This first wife at present is living in Cleveland, Penna. The divorce was obtained in Philadelphia.

WIFE DENOUNCED

Mrs. Baring, her aging face that bore no obviously the testimony of beauty, was plainly agitated, before of anonymous letters bared her for the manner in which, through at least three weeks, she had received her husband's overtures of affection while Baring, for the authorities boxes of stuffed dolls, sugar, books of bread and milk, and such things which Baring, according to the charges, had included with deadly germs and arsenic.

ON HOTEL REGISTER

As to Miss Beam, whom Baring himself has declared "wholeheartedly" District Attorney Howard passed the day with several tips. A question about the promised interview with her arranged for yesterday met with silence and was one of the reasons for the jury session.

It was established, however, that the indictment had been recovered for the prosecution, evidence considered to be of value in bringing about at least one additional indictment in the case. Whether this indictment is sought in a John Doe or Jane Doe pending was not ascertainable. The authorities made it unmistakable, however, that they were seeking to force into the jurisdiction a woman witness deemed of importance.

A dispatch from Norfolk, Va., relating that a week ago one Mildred E. Beam, was registered at a local hotel, and that a "Charles O. Baring" was likewise registered, was not commented upon by any of the principals in this mystery case, which, instead of clarifying, appears to grow even stranger with the succeeding days.

PLANNED TRIP ABROAD

Baring arranged passage to Europe on June 7, according to investigations of the case.

With him he had planned to take a "Mrs. C. O. Baring," in making his application.

He intended to make a tour of Middle Europe. This information was turned over to the district attorney of Westchester County today.

He acted promptly and called Mrs. Baring to talk with him.

"Did you plan to take a trip to Europe this Summer with your husband?" she was asked.

"Certainly not," she answered.

"Then it should have been known," she added, "a few weeks ago he began seeing me about our trip together and I knew he acted as if he were living it over to me, now mentioning about the places we went and how long we were to be away, asking me about our old passports, to find out whether they were valid."

"My God, I should have known."

District Attorney Howard, investigating this new information, is making an effort to determine whether it is any of these friends.

MISSING TEACHER IN BARING POISON CASE

MISS MILDRED E. BEAM School teacher named as "other woman" in strange Baring poison plot. Police are seeking to prove that for love of her Clarence O. Baring tried to kill his wife. Miss Beam is being hunted as witness in case.

GIRL LOST FOUR DAYS SEARCHED FOR BY SCOUTS

East Templeton, May 2.—An empty lunch box is a lone clue in the strange disappearance of eight-year-old Phyllis, who disappeared Monday in this village, who departed Monday in search of mayflowers in the woods near Snake Pond and failed to return.

Poses of Boy Scouts and other residents, who searched the woods for the missing girl, found the lunch box but failed to find any other trace of the girl.

Relatives and friends fear she has been abducted or was drowned in Snake Pond.

The selection started an official investigation.

The girl, an orphan, was for a time employed as housekeeper by John M. Riley, but quit there two weeks ago. Since then she had been living with her aunt, Mrs. Harriet.

The latter, the authorities said, had made no official report of the girl's disappearance.

Friends of the girl scouted rumors that she had fled town with a young man. They likewise discounted the theory that she has been lost in the woods, declaring she knew them too well to go astray.

Snake Pond is located on the Gardner line. Search was to be concentrated there today.

HYLAN FIGHTS JUMP IN PHONE RATES

New York, May 2.—Mayor Hylan today directed that legal steps be taken on behalf of the city to prevent enforcement of the 10 per cent increase in telephone rates allowed the New York Telephone Company by Federal Judge Knox.

"Take the necessary action and use every possible legal means at your command to protect the people's interests," the Mayor said.

Mayor Hylan said he wanted to know "what right, under the law, the court has to increase these rates."

WINTHROP GRID STAR INJURED AT YALE

Rupert R. McManis of Winthrop is one of the three members of the Yale football squad injured when the gridiron attack the bus hauling the players from Yale field to the campus.

McManis sustained a compound fracture of the left elbow. Richard Givens of St. Paul suffered an injury to his back, and the left arm of John H. Murray of Cleveland Heights was injured.

Points to an attempt of Baring to prepare flight with another woman after his ill-fated poisoning attack has taken effect.

Baring, sullen and nervous, shaken, was taken from his cell in the jail and brought before District Attorney Howard, from whom he was taken to the District Attorney's office.

A strange feature of this itinerary was Baring's admission of having checked it numerous times before arriving at a final decision. It is learned that friends of Baring, who know both Baring and Mrs. Baring, thought it was too late to be traveling in Europe next summer, Baring's trip.

District Attorney Howard, who was charged with the duty of investigating this new information, is making an effort to determine whether it is any of these friends.

Delawanna Added to the Long List of International Fishermen's Race Vessel Disasters

It is the variable wants of human nature that give employment. It excites industry, encourages taste, promotes travel and produces Abundancy

"Cros" Trip Abroad Book

The loss of the schooner Delawanna adds one more to the long series of disasters that have overtaken boats which have sought the international fishermen's trophy.

The Gloucester schooner Esperanza, which won from the Delawanna in the first race in 1920, was wrecked off Sable Island, N. S., in June, 1921.

Almost on the same spot the Gloucester schooner Puritan, built as a cup contender for the 1922 race season, ended her career.

The schooner Elizabeth Howard, successful contender in two similar contests to choose the American representative in the races for the trophy, was lost off Port of Sable Island, N. S., in November, 1922.

The Henry Ford, built in 1922 and later to the Gloucester schooner Esperanza in that year's race, went on a similar six-hour cruise when she was launched at Essex and was held fast for a week before she was freed, after which extensive repairs were required.

The Columbia, American representative in the 1923 race, was run down by a French trawler off Sable Island in the spring of this year. In October she struck a rock outside Gloucester harbor, but escaped serious damage and was saved with difficulty.

DEMOCRATS PIT THEIR TAX PLAN IN THE SENATE

Simmons' Substitute Likely to Be Adopted, According to Canvass

Washington, May 2 (N.B.A.)—Democratic opposition to the Mellon plan for reducing Federal taxes went into action in the Senate today when Senator Simmons, minority leader, offered substitute schedule for the tax rates proposed by the administration.

The Simmons plan, based upon a minimum normal tax of 2 per cent, and a maximum surtax of 50 per cent, would offer larger reductions to the small taxpayers and impose heavier rates on large incomes than those proposed by the Mellon schedule.

A canvass indicated the Simmons plan would be adopted by the Senate with ultimately a compromise between the Democratic substitute and the Longworth bill, passed by the House. These two measures vary slightly in rates, the House bill stipulating with a maximum surtax of 75 per cent.

The difference, however, can easily be ironed out in conference. The Mellon plan was deemed to defeat-ive by the administration leaders who maintain it. Both Senator Walter, Republican, Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, announced they did not hope to enact the Administration measure.

At the same time, Democratic spokesmen declared they would pass the Simmons schedule.

BONES OF DEAD WAR VETERANS DESECRATED

They Were Being Ground Into Fertilizer

Paris, May 2.—Reports that human bones have been collected by the wholesale in the Mort Villeneuve and Verdun battlefields, with a view to being ground up for fertilizer and industrial purposes have so aroused public opinion that an official investigation has been commenced by the subprefect of Verdun.

He submitted two reports to the prefect of the Meuse Department and later issued a decree that no search for bones, human or animal, might be made on the battlefields except by officials of the army service.

Joint dealers have made collections of bones in addition to other things in these districts so that subject sent doctors and police officials to take specimens from the collections for examination.

The doctors reported they could find nothing which could be identified as human remains. The prefect's report states that he found in evidence supporting the rumors of wholesale collection.

BODY OF DUSE ON ITALIAN LINER

New York, May 2.—Giuseppe Duse is on her way back to her native Italy. All about her are the bare white walls of a seagoing partition, but a single sailor in the uniform of his king stands guard over her and a few yards away is the constant murmur of Italian voices—presumably returning, like Duse, to motherland and warm, grateful earth.

She Duse, if she could know, probably would, must be in the stateroom. The body of the world's famous tragedienne was placed on board the liner Duse after a solemn funeral mass had been celebrated at the church of St. Vincent Paul, and the funeral procession had passed in show and melancholy pomp through Central Park.

ONE IN 12 CARS IN CONNECTICUT ACCIDENTS

Hartford, Ct., May 2.—Fines and civil fees in Connecticut courts for violations of motor vehicle laws aggregated $27,494 for the first quarter of this year, an increase of $5,206 as compared with the corresponding period last year.

The department also stated "drastic steps are contemplated" to combat carelessness of automobile operators which has brought the accident rate up to a point where one car in twelve is involved in an accident.

The statement says that "motorists are co-operating by imposing penalties more frequently than ever before, and heavy fines."

The number of motor fatalities the past two months was greater than the number for the entire year 1923. Up to the first of April forty-six persons had been killed in the State since January 1.

PROCLAIM "NERONE" GREAT WORK OF ART

Rome, May 2.—The musical critics of the Rome newspapers in their reviews today of the first production of Botti's "Nerone," at La Scala in Milan last night under the baton of Toscanini, take the view as a whole that the opera represents perhaps the greatest attempt ever made to construct an ideal work of art, with the music, voice, scenery, costumes, decorations, lights and color all of a distinctively high order. There is a noticeable hesitation on their part, however, to commit themselves definitely after only one hearing to any statement as to whether or no the opera will be a lasting success.

CONTEMDS IT'S ALL RIGHT TO STRIKE WIFE

War Vet Sued by Hotel Cashier for Divorce, Plans Counter Action

It's all right to strike your wife if you have justifiable cause, in the opinion of Harold C. Gould, World War veteran, and proprietor of an automobile repair business in Chelsea, who has just been named defendant in suit for divorce. The wife, Edith C. Gould, thirty-five years old, cashier at the Hotel Bellevue, Boston, charges cruel and abusive treatment in January last. Gould doesn't deny the charge, but he declares that what happened in January will be the basis for a counter divorce suit that he will file today in which he proposes to show he had the "justifiable cause" referred to.

CHILDREN BOARD OUT.

Mrs. Gould, incidentally, seeks the custody of their four children, in which Gould retorts: "Why, she won't even take care of them now. Little Robert E., one and half years old, is now in a Boston hospital. The other three, Dorothy V., nine years old, Doris A., six years old, and Josephine E., eight years old, are being boarded for $15 a week with a family in the Brookline and all the time not well. I have written at No. 49 Malabar street, Back Bay."

WORLD WAR VETERAN

Gould lives at the Chelsea House, Chelsea. During the war he was in charge of army aviation camps at Princeton, Pa.; Hampton Roads, Va.; and Base House, L. I. The couple were married April 27, 1912, at the Warren Avenue Baptist Church by the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson. Each was twenty-three years old at the time. After their marriage they lived in Orange, N. H., and in Richmond, Va. For the last five years they have lived in Boston, first at No. 18 Cumberland street, and later at No. 311 Huntington avenue, Back Bay. At the latter address they parted last January.

ULSTER ORDERS TROOPS TO BORDER

Proposed Mobilization of 25,000 Men Causes Stir in Dispute Over Boundary Line

London, May 2.—The Northern Irish government has ordered a section of its special constabulary on the Armagh border adjoining Louth, one of the Free State counties, to prepare for mobilization, according to a report sent by the Belfast correspondent of the Westminster Gazette.

This section of the constabulary, according to the correspondent, has had complete military training and is equipped with all the modern weapons of war. The preparations have created a stir in Armagh.

William Ray Parkway, was observed by Patrolman William J. Flynn, first officer on the scene, to have stopped while registering fifty-five miles an hour.

LETTERS ARE READ.

Thomas J. O'Neill, the plaintiff's lawyer, introduced a letter from Plant in the Presbyterian Hospital and several cablegrams and letters he sent Miss Jesmer after his mother had taken him abroad following his discharge from the hospital. They were affectionate and told how handsome Plant was with her. Mr. O'Neill asked:

"Did you write that to this young woman who, you said, rejected whiskey out of a bottle every time it was passed around at that automobile trip?"

"Yes," Plant answered. The letter said:

"Once again I take up my pen to write to a very sweet person who is living alone in a small house in a hospital on Sixteenth street." began the letter Plant wrote from the hospital. "She is probably dreaming of older days when carriages were in vogue and there were no noisy, smelly, old automobiles to rush around in and hit things. Or she she is transported to some lovely golden world where all is sunshine and laughter and no silly hospitals. Rich-billies are as common as the turn of the head in the wind-things and there are no worldly men who write one letter of adoration and another of adoration and another of adoration."

February 27, 1923, he wrote to her from Nice which he called "the Palm Beach of France."

"I wonder if you have missed me? I've certainly missed you a lot and many's the time I've wished I were at the Palais Royal with you instead of here."

Your drawings I have pinned to my mirror. A sweet reminder. Remember, I am thinking and praying for you, also remember every word I said when I left I must. Think often of one who thinks a great, great, great deal of you and write.

"PHILIP."

He wrote from London March 14, 1923, of going to a theatre and hearing the orchestra play "Snap Your Fingers at Care," which was one of the songs of the "Greenwich Village Follies," in which Miss Jesmer was appearing at the time of the accident and which he testified she was trying to teach the four boys on the rear seat when the automobile crashed into the tree. He wrote:

"I nearly wept. It reminded me of the many good times we have had. Heine, dear one, why haven't you written me? Often and often, Heine, you have been in my thoughts and my thoughts have not changed from what they always were."

PLANT SAYS IS MILES.
When Plant resumed the stand he insisted that during the entire ride of seventy-five miles from New Haven he never exceeded twenty-five miles an hour and particularly remembered that just prior to the accident he was going seven miles less than that.

In this he was corroborated by two of the four new student chums, who with Miss Jesmer composed the jury party.

But Joseph J. Wickes, speedometer expert for the police department, basing his testimony on an experience of thirteen years, said it was an absolute mechanical impossibility for the speedometer to register any mileage other than the last established.

Plant, with brother officers, William Nelson and Sergeant George R. South, fully contradicted Plant's story that he was dazed when he told them the accident was caused by his being blinded by the glare of the headlights of a car coming from the opposite direction.

Plant did not realize what he was saying.

SINGING AND DRINKING.
The officers declared Plant said nothing about Miss Jesmer lurching against him and grasping the steering wheel, causing him to lose control of the car. That was Plant's defense in the trial.

Edward Louis Hersey, played up by Plant at Norwalk, said he was still friendly with his former chum and came from his home at St. Paul, Minn., to help him win the case.

COAL INQUIRY BILL KILLED BY HOUSE.
By an overwhelming vote the House rejected the resolve appropriating $10,000 for an investigation by the Commission on the Necessities of Life into the use of substitutes for anthracite coal for domestic use.

Representative Deek of Chelsea led the fight against the investigation, saying that any dealer in oil fuel will furnish without charge all the information necessary regarding the use of that form of fuel. What the people of Massachusetts want.

66,000 VOLTS SENT VIA SUBWAY CABLE.
Cleveland, May 2.—Transmission of electricity over a cable carrying 66,000 volts through Cleveland as a subway, said to be the highest underground voltage cable ever built in America, was started from the outskirts of Cleveland. The voltage stepped up to 132,000, in transmission, overhead to Akron, where the line connected with points south to Windsor, W. Va., and the Ohio River.

Falls From Governor to Convict in Only 36 Hours

Atlanta, May 2.—Two years ago Governor Warren T. McGray was a distinguished visitor to Atlanta when he attended the South-eastern fair in charge of an exhibit of fine cattle from out of his Indiana farms.

Today he is just one of more than 2,000 inmates of the Federal Penitentiary.

Within 36 hours he was changed from Governor to convict.

The metamorphosis was made complete when the great iron gates of the prison clanged behind him. He became No. 17746.

AUTOIST IS KILLED AS CAR GOES INTO BROOK

The car turned over and landed in the water feet below.

$200,000 LOSS BY FLAMES IN BEVERLY

One Man Hurt, Masonic Black Destroyed; Help Is Called From Salem

Beverly, May 2.—The loss of $200,000 by a fire which destroyed the Beverly Masonic building at No. 127 Cabot street with an estimated loss of $200,000.

The danger of the fire which out adjacent business houses was great that aid was summoned from Salem.

One man was injured during the fire. He is Fred Whitehouse, chauffeur for the fire chief, who fell over a line of hose, sustaining injuries to his head. He was removed to the Beverly hospital.

The first floor of the block was occupied by the Fidelity Shoe Company and the Webb Jewelry store. The upper floors were used by the various Masonic organizations of Beverly. When the fire was finally extinguished, only the remains of the building save the four gable walls.

STARTS IN SHOE STORE.

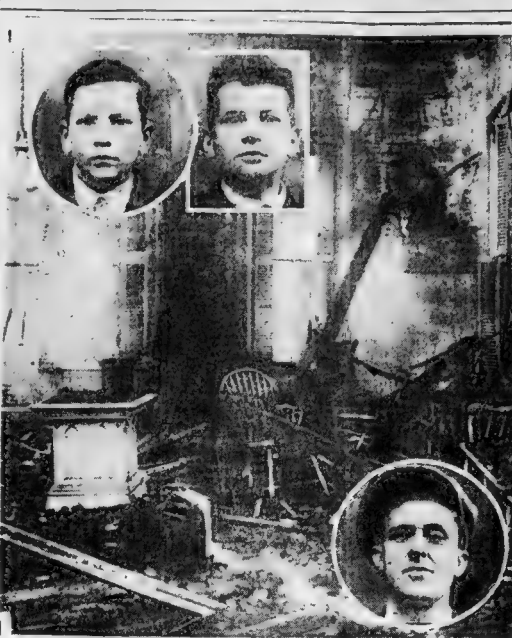

The fire started in the Fidelity shoe store and within a few moments spread through the entire building. The Beverly firemen had their hands full in fighting the flames in the Masonic building and had no men or apparatus to devote to the adjoining property which was threatened by a constantly rising shower of burning embers.

When Deputy Chief Keen of the Salem department arrived with an engine company, the engine and hose were used to fight the fire in the Masonic building.

The Union fire engine and quarter in the building and the fire was wiped out in one blaze.

The cause of the fire has not been determined.

RUM SHIP SINKS AFTER CAPTURE AT GLOUCESTER

Fast Boat Runs on Rocks and Goes Down While Being Towed

Glooucester, May 2.—A fast motor boat loaded with liquor from Boston's rum run, sunk today after the May trade ran on the rocks off Boston and was captured by the coastguard motorboat Pioneer, Captain King.

The motorboat, which bore the name of the "Pioneer," was captured by the coastguard motorboat Pioneer, Captain King. The motorboat was captured by the coastguard motorboat Pioneer, Captain King.

The capture was made after the Pioneer had chased the motorboat along the coast for more than an hour. Finally the pursued ran to the harbor and fled up on the rocks.

Captain King pulled the vessel ashore and started for the home port, but off Gloucester Point the motor went down. The motorboatmen all saved 60 cases of rum from the liquor.

AMERICAN WINS FIGHT FOR WILLS

Jack Dempsey, the Tiger Man, vs. Harry Wills, the Black Panther. This is the card for the next big battle for the world's heavyweight championship. The signing of articles is another great victory for the Boston American and a tribute to its far-reaching power in the world of sports. The American was the first newspaper in the country to take up the cause of the colored boxer in his fight to land a bout with the champion. For four long, lean years Wills has been knocking at Dempsey's door, and it was not until this newspaper came to the rescue did the negro boxer get any consideration. Wills should prove a worthy foe for the white champion, and the battle is sure to prove as great a draw as any card in the history of the sport. Not since the days of Jack Johnson have the colored race had a real heavyweight, and they can be sure that Wills will make the most of the opportunity.

GIANTS GOING TO RACE

Knocking the New York Giants off the pinnacle is going to be the toughest stand for seven other National League teams in the present hectic scramble. For the champions have just been the field, have collected all the confidence they usually show in August, and are pretty well set to make a runaway of it.

Other Springs these classy Giants have had their troubles and tribulations, but this one has been very smooth for them. They have won quite a few lanky ball games, and have only lost two in a dozen games.

That sort of a start would put pep and fire into a contender, and this Lord knows the Giants don't need much of those two qualities attached to their feet as they run away from the league. The team is cocky now, and bold, and playing head-up ball, and as we have remarked earlier, it will be a lot of hamstring to stay near the rest of the parade.

McGraw has been experimenting with a few pitchers, the veterans as well as the best of the new ones. He has started to re-sign a few of the old ones, and has been looking for a few more.

DAVE STRADE TO BOX RATHER THAN WEDNESDAY

By JACK CONWAY
Dave Strade, great California middleweight and the sensational Augie Hammer of New York who is expected to make his debut at the Ruffalo A. A. show at the Boston Arena on next Wednesday night.

Shade accepted terms for the Ruffalo match after he had been given $2,500. Shade, the only man to "outmaneuver" Jack Malone, will receive $4,000. This makes the purse the largest guaranteed to middleweight for a bout in Boston.

Shade is in quest of two titles. He is prepared to make his debut for a battle with Mike Walker for the world's lightweight title, while he will allow Grew to enter the ring at 160 pounds.

Boston has been the scene of some of Shade's most spectacular fights. It was in this city that he defeated Sam Siegel, Eddie Sharkey, Paul Doyle, Jack Perry, Ted Moore and other ring stars. The twenty-two year old Californian, with the speed and science of Jack Britton, has proved a ring marvel.

Shade refused to meet Rafter again. An effort was made to sign Jack Malone for another meeting with Rafter. To which Malone replied: "Nothing doing. That guy is too tough. He's got my number."

When Malone met Rafter recently at the Arena, Rafter beat Malone at lightning. He also availed himself of the St. Paul man's right hand.

Meanwhile, Rafter, who was away at Malone's boat, blackened Jack's left eye and split his lower lip wide open. That gave him the material Malone is obliged to take such a thrashing from any of our heavy ring stars.

Rafter, a Jew, says he will win the middleweight championship. He intends to prove that Abe Goldstein, heavyweight champion, and Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, are not the only great Jewish fighters.

Any day when he can punch his way into the ring, Rafter has a chance of winning the middleweight crown. Augie stopped Jack Delaney, conqueror of Paul Servino, in one round. No other middleweight has been able to stop him since.

You will see a thrilling engagement when Dave Strade tests his speed and skill against Rafter's aggressiveness and tremendous punching power.

Sammy Mosca, Montreal lightweight who engaged in some exciting bouts in Boston rings, has returned to this city after a successful campaign on the Pacific Coast. While on the Coast Mosca won four decisions and a draw in one draw. He is now open to meet any of our local lightweight champions.

Heavy offer to clash with Jackie Clark. Harry Grew, middleweight champion, will remain operations in the ring when he meets Jackie Clark of Allentown, Pa., in a two-round bout at Knickerbocker, Maryland, on next Monday night. Grew, fighter of this city, who manages Clark, says the prospect will receive a guarantee of $10,000 with a privilege of 25% percent of the receipts. Clark is expected to meet Benny Merritt, Arm champion, at Columbus, Ga., on May 15.

Phil Romanelli, manager of Frankie Genaro, announces that the American freestyle champion will be able to go through with his bout with Tommy Ryan for the Commercial Club inside of ten days. Genaro was obliged to make a postponement on account of an attack of grippe.

More than 100 entries have been received for the New England championship, which will be staged at Mechanics Building next Thursday night, according to a report by Chairman William H. Cuddy who has charge of the tourney for the N. E. A. A. C. U.

With the eight championship classes on the cards, it is expected that all of them will be well filled and it is predicted now that all records for entries and attendance will be shattered.

With the approach of the national championships and the selection of the U. S. Olympic team, local word news of the pure milks are anxious to make places on the team which will uphold the honor of American milk.

PRODUCERS IN MOVE TO AVERT STAGE STRIKE

Confident Compromise Between Equity and Managers Will Solve Present Crisis

New York, May 2.—There will be a compromise between the producers and the actors in the present crisis, it was predicted today by the producers.

The compromise will mean, it was said, that theatrical companies for the next ten years will be composed of 50 per cent. Equity members and 50 per cent. Fidelity or non-Equity members.

The Fidelity members are mostly comprised of stars who rent the use of someone under a union contract, preferring the old method of dealing personally with the manager.

They are still determined to have a complete Equity shop, it is regarded as a certainty they will agree to a compromise if offered on the 40-50 basis.

The Facts About Coffee

FOR more than three years an exhaustive investigation of Coffee has been carried on at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

This investigation was made at the invitation of the Coffee trade of the United States to determine by scientific research the truth about Coffee and Coffee making. It was one of the most thorough investigations ever made of any food product. The report covers many hundreds of pages, for every aspect of Coffee and Coffee making was studied.

The result of this scientific research, as announced by Professor Samuel C. Prescott, Director of the Institute's Department of Biology and Public Health, shows that Coffee is a wholesome, helpful, satisfying drink for the great majority of people. Professor Prescott has disproved old prejudices and superstitions, and given Coffee a clean bill of health. He says—

"It may be stated that, after weighing the evidence, a dispassionate evaluation of the data so comprehensively surveyed has led to no alarming conclusions that Coffee is an injurious beverage for the great majority of adults, but, on the contrary, that the history of human experience, as well as the results of scientific experimentation, point to the fact that Coffee is a beverage which, properly prepared and rightly used, gives comfort and inspiration, augments mental and physical activity, and may be regarded as the servant rather than the destroyer of civilization."

This statement, coming from such an unquestioned scientific authority, confirms the judgment of the American people, who drank much more Coffee last year than ever before.
